Call for competition and rules
Regional Entrepreneurship Competition – REC

I- Presentation and Objectives:

In order to spread the entrepreneurial culture and innovation among university students and teachers, to encourage the emergence of businesses and the creation of new work opportunities for young people, the President of Alexandria University, who presides for two years the Conference of Rectors of the Middle East region (CONFREMO), launches a call for competition for the first edition of the regional virtual competition in entrepreneurship - REC, within the framework of CONFREMO activities, in partnership with the Agence Universitaire de la Francophonie (AUF) through its CIPIEE project and with the support of the International Business Leadership License (IBDL).

This Regional Entrepreneurship Competition aims to:

- Raise students' awareness of the entrepreneurial culture and encourage entrepreneurship among young people;
- Apply everything that students learn at the academic level and develop their scientific and research capacities;
- Help students to become aware of the importance of the role of entrepreneurship and small businesses for development and its impact on the individual and society;
- Provide students with the knowledge and skills necessary to set up and manage small projects;
- Encourage participating teams to come up with innovative ideas in the field of entrepreneurship;
- Promote cross-border and regional cooperation, particularly in the light of the global Corona pandemic.

The official languages admitted into the competition are French and English and this according to the linguistic preferences of the participating teams.

II- Target Groups:

It is a regional competition that aims to develop the spirit of entrepreneurship among university students in the Middle East, from various academic levels, to enable them to convert their creative ideas into successful business plans for products and services of high economic value. The contest vision stems from its interest in stimulating the concept of inclusive leadership.

The competition is intended for:

- Entrepreneurial students at universities
- Students from all academic levels: Bachelor's, Master's, Doctorate’s
- Faculty members in these universities who can participate in the competition, provided that most of the team members are students.
III- Competition stages:
The competition consists of three stages:

Stage 1: Applying to the competition
Fill out a detailed form that includes personal data, and a summary containing basic information about the project’s idea, the target market, its investment feasibility, and the competitive advantage of the product or service provided.

Stage 2: Assessment and E-Learning
- Providing personal assessment in entrepreneurship to participants
- Entrepreneurship experts providing advice and guidance
- E-Learning in management and entrepreneurship skills
- This phase ends with the submission of the action plan by the participating team.

Stage 3: Evaluation
- Choosing the top 10 project ideas according to the ideation form submitted
- Each team will give a presentation before the regional jury
- Announcing the top three teams in this competition
